<sup>1</sup>CRIMINAL No. 04/L-123 PROCEDURE CODE;

JUDGMENT

The Accused is ### FOUND NOT GUILTY

Because it was not proven beyond reasonable doubt:

- that during the month of December 2010 the Defendant together with the accomplices A.T., R.D., J.P. and I.Z., working together as members of an organized criminal group based in Kosovo and Serbia engaged in the illegal activities of sourcing for narcotic drugs (heroin) in Kosovo and trafficking the drugs to Belgrade in Serbia taking advantage of the fact that two of the accomplices in the case were, at the material times, serving police officers of the Serbian police.
- that there were clear divisions of labour in the activities of the Defendant together with the said accomplices during that period, as follows: with the Defendant S.F. as the main Kosovo anchor of the criminal gang and having as responsibility to source for heroin in Kosovo using his network of contacts; with A.T. as the crucial link, the 'legman' between the gang members based in Kosovo and Serbia, responsible to relay information from the gang members in Serbia to S.F. who was based in Kosovo and vice versa; with J.P. and R.D., both, at the time police officers in the Serbian police and deployed to Leposaviq/

Leposavić and Raska as responsible for sourcing for buyers of the drugs in Belgrade and also responsible for smuggling the drugs into Belgrade; and with I.Z. as the buyer of the narcotics from J.P. and A.T..

- that in December 2010, after a number of telephone contacts between A.T. and J.P., the two of them agreed to meet on 11 December 2010 at Raska from where the two went together to Leposaviq/ Leposavić to meet with the defendant S.F. and reached an agreement on the nature, price and modality of obtaining and handling drugs to J.P. and R.D..
- that, subsequent to this meeting, the defendant and his alleged accomplices engaged in further telephone conversations by which they agreed to exchange drugs for cash on 22 December 2010.

And neither

- that on the 22 December 2010 the above mentioned individuals met in the area of Ceranjska Reka to exchange an agreed quantity of 2 kilograms of heroin.

Therefore, pursuant to Article 364 Paragraph (1) Subparagraph (1.3) of the CPC, the Defendant is ACQUITTED of the criminal offence Organised Crime contrary to the provisions of Article 274 paragraph 3 of the Criminal Code of Kosovo related to the criminal offence of Unauthorised Purchase, Possession, Distribution and Sale of dangerous narcotic contrary to the provisions of Article 229(3) paragraph 4 subparagraph 1 related to paragraph 2 of the Criminal Code of Kosovo.

b) Motions

Motion regarding Witnesses R.D., A.T., J.P., Ne.D., I.Z., Ra.J.and B.S.

73. During the Trial session of 22 May 2017, the Defence requested to hear as Witnesses, in addition to R.D.<sup>2</sup>, the following individuals: A.T., J.P., Ne.D., I.Z., Ra.J. and B.S..

74. The Panel initially accepted the motion but later on reconsider their position and concluded that the examination of these Witnesses is unobtainable under article 258, paragraph 2.3 of the procedure code. Therefore it was decided not to administer this evidence anymore<sup>3</sup>.

Notice of corroboration

75. During the Trial session of 26 February 2018, the Prosecution filed a “notice of corroboration” request, seeking to adduce as evidence certain statements and documents specified therein.

76. The Panel rejected the request<sup>4</sup>.

Factual findings

77. On 22 December 2010, while in his car in the area of Ceranjska Reka, Municipality of Leposavić, the Defendant got shot, as established by the medical report issued by the Thoracic Surgery Clinic, University Clinical Center of Kosovo, Registry No. ... and dated ...

78. The circumstances of his shooting are still under investigation (case number 2010-BI-458).

79. As the police received information that the reason behind the shooting was a drug deal gone wrong, on 23 December 2010 “they organized a search operation in the house where the Defendant resided at that time”<sup>5</sup>.
80. Both Witnesses M.T. and A.K. attended the search in their capacity of police officers and confirmed the findings in the report.
81. The expert-Witness in Forensics S.D., Director of the Chemistry and Biology Department in Kosovo Forensic Agency in Pristina confirmed that on that occasion a quantity of 7,87 grams of marijuana and two scales with traces of narcotics were found.
82. A corollary allegation by the Prosecution is that on 22 December 2010 the Defendant was in possession of a quantity of 2 kilograms of heroin which he intended to sell to R.D. and J.P. in exchange of the amount of 28.000 Euro.
83. From the outset the Panel remarks that there is no solid evidence to establish that the Defendant was in the possession of any amount of drugs on the critical day or was in any way involved in the transaction of the quantity of drugs specified in the Indictment.
84. The only facts that can be established are that indeed the Defendant drove to Ceranjska Reka that day and that while being there, he got shot.
85. The rest of the theory presented by the Prosecution is not supported by the evidence adduced in the present trial and is, therefore, considered as unsubstantiated.
86. Even if the Defendant has not offered any plausible motive as to why was he attacked and the circumstances of this incident are indeed obscure, this alone cannot serve to establish the allegations by the Prosecution, more so given that the burden of proof belongs to the latter.

<sup>5</sup> Witnesses M.T. and A.K., Record of the main trial 13 September 2016, read into the Record of the main trial 22 May 2017

87. It is of note that during the search, a certain quantity of marijuana was identified at the Defendant's place of residence. With the reserve that the Defendant was not the only inhabitant of the house, this could indicate that the Defendant might be involved in using or handling such substances. However, the quantity of narcotics found at the search is not so significant as to suggest a pattern similar to the one described in the Indictment. More importantly, this quantity of marijuana is not included in the object of the Indictment, as indicated by Prosecution<sup>6</sup>.
88. The very presence of any drugs in the Defendant's vehicle or in the area where his vehicle was stationary at the time of the incident it is in fact not proven. No link is established between the Defendant and the narcotics seized by Police further on in Serbia proper.
89. The testimony of R.D. does not serve to shed any more light on what occurred on 22 December 2010 since the witness used his legal privilege to decline to answer questions.
90. The prosecution has failed to provide sufficient evidence to prove the connection and involvement of the Defendant with this shipment of drugs.
91. Furthermore, there is no concrete or clear evidence that the Defendant and the other individuals had any kind of cooperation in connection with drugs.
92. Based on the evidence available in the case, the Panel cannot draw any certain inferences concerning the existence or potential nature of the collaboration between the Defendant and the other four individuals.

93. The content of intercepts is not conclusive. While the possibility exists that the conversations are encoded and intended to conceal certain illegal activities, this conclusion cannot be drawn based exclusively on their content. In addition, there is not any other corroborative evidence in support of this theory. The purpose of the communication remains unclear. Therefore, the evidence by means of interception is inconclusive as to the involvement of the Defendant and his interaction with the others in relation to the narcotics shipment on 22 December 2010.
94. Again, the evidence relied upon by the Prosecution to prove their cooperation is circumstantial at best and therefore not sufficient to prove the existence of the purported criminal organisation.

Legal Findings

95. Under article 8 of the CCK a criminal offense has to be committed by an act or omission.
96. Article 20 of the same code statutes that “a person is not criminally liable if there is no causal link between the action and consequences”.
97. The presumption of innocence “imposes on the prosecution the burden of proving the charge, guarantees that no guilt can be presumed until the charge has been proved beyond a reasonable doubt [and] ensures that the accused has the benefit of the doubt”.
98. On the basis of this principle, the burden of proof incorporated in the Prosecution’s obligation to prove a Defendant’s guilt beyond reasonable doubt means that it must be established and proven that there are no other reasonable alternatives to the one demonstrated by the Prosecutor. As explained by the European Court of Human Rights (ECtHR) in the case of Barberà, Messegué and Jabardo v Spain, in relation to the right to a fair trial, Article 6 of the European Convention on Human Rights (ECHR): “Paragraph 2 [of Article 6] embodies the principle of the presumption of innocence. It requires, inter alia, that when carrying out their duties, the members of a court should not start with the preconceived idea that the Accused has committed the offence charged; the burden of proof is on the prosecution, and any doubt should benefit the Accused.”<sup>7</sup> Therefore, this principle is intrinsic to the right to be presumed innocent until proven guilty according to the law. Subsequently, based on the principle of in dubio pro reo, the Court, when evaluating the facts and the evidence, must find in the favor of the Accused in case of doubt.

99. The Yugoslavia Tribunal clarified that this standard “requires a finder of fact to be satisfied that there is no reasonable explanation of the evidence other than the guilt of the accused”<sup>8</sup>.
100. While an inference of involvement of the Defendant in a certain activity related to narcotics could be drawn from the fact that a small quantity of marijuana and a scale were found at this residence, in the view of the Panel, there are no other elements to establish the allegations in the Indictment. It necessarily follows, having regard to the burden of proof, that it has not been proven beyond a reasonable doubt by the Prosecution that the Defendant was in any way involved in the exchange of the quantity of 2 kilos of heroin on 22 December 2010 or that he was part of a criminal organisation set up for this purpose. This doubt and the presence of other possible and plausible alternative solutions had to be interpreted in the favour of the Accused, based on the principle of in dubio pro reo.

101. To sum up, the Trial Panel could not establish as proven beyond a reasonable doubt the facts giving rise to these charges against the Accused.

102. The actus reus in criminal law consists of all elements of a crime other than the state of mind of the Defendant.

103. The actus reus of the criminal offenses the Defendant is charged with under the two counts in the Indictment could not be established. The actus reus is, therefore, not met under the legal standard and the Defendant cannot be considered criminally liable.

104. Since the objective elements of the criminal offences in the law in force at the time the acts were committed were not found, it is superfluous to analyse the subjective element or mens rea.

105. Based on the above, the charges against the Defendant are not proven beyond a reasonable doubt and he is found not guilty and acquitted (Article 364(1.3) of the CPC).
